

Since our company was created, we have dedicated ourselves to satisfying customers, protecting the environment and meeting the needs of society. It's what we stand for. We integrate socially responsible practices into the very fabric of our operations, from the suppliers we use to the final lifecycle stage of the products we sell. Akran has dedicated resources to match the standards set by organizations such as the Ethical Trading Initiative (ETI) and Social Accountability International (SAI). The guidelines of these organizations help us better understand and approach the broad scope of issues that encompass our business.