

Akran Marketing is a strong advocate of boosting our national economy. We try our best to source and promote Canadian products, not just because it helps to employ Canadians, but it is better for our economy. The higher quality and longer-lifespan of these products, as well as the reduced impact of less transportation demands on the environment (reduced consumption of carbon-based fuels and production of associated pollutants) all work together to ensure we can provide the best value for money.